NAKAMA GREEN & WABI GREEN

NAKAMA IVORY & WABI IVORY

Enso, ancestral symbol within the Zen Buddhism that means: Circle.

They prepare themselves for years to make the Enso just once in a single stroke, capturing the essence of who makes it. Represents the enlightenment, elegance and emptiness and it is linked to the minimalism. Circle that does not lack or has anything left over, as it embodies perfection.

NAKAMA BLUE & KINTSUGI BLUE

"Nakama" and its decors "Wabi" and "Kintsugi", are inspired in the rustic simplicity, stillness and the imperfect quality of any object that gives elegance to the whole.

"Karu" and its decor "Suki" combine shine, freshness and tradition with the warmth of nature.

TANKA GRAPHITE & YAKEDO SAND

"Yakusugi" is the ancient Japanese art of treating the wood to preserve and embellish it. It is a natural process, which by a slight carbonization of the wood surface, becomes waterproof and more durable. Treated between 7 and 10 minutes, combustion is stopped with water when it has been carbonized in 3 or 4 mm thickness, then is brushed and protected with natural oils. Depending on the exposure to the flame and its subsequent brushing, it will result in a different finish and tone.

We present you "Yakedo" a light burnt and brushed Larch wood and "Tanka" a charred Accoya wood, in several colour versions.
